

HAB · HEALTHY AUTO BUSINESS · SALES
OPERATING SYSTEM

The Coach's Book

The Manager's Operating Manual for the HAB Sales OS

For: Service Managers, Coaches, Owners, and anyone responsible for installing the HAB Sales OS, running the weekly cadence, scoring ride-alongs, certifying advisors, and protecting the system from operational drift.

This is your installation manual, scoring guide, and conversation handbook — complete in one book, including the full 13-week Coach Certification cycle that turns your best person into the shop's own coach.

6

COACHING
PRINCIPLES

5

BEATS PER
1:1

9

KPIS

13

COACH CYCLE
WEEKS

26

WEEKS, TWO CYCLES

VERSION 2.2 · CONFIDENTIAL & PROPRIETARY

DO WHAT'S RIGHT · DO WHAT'S FAIR · DO YOUR BEST

What's New Since Version 1

Your shop received Version 1 of this book. This edition replaces it — both the coaching layer and the advisor system it coaches have moved. Where this book and memory disagree, this book wins.

What Changed in This Book

WHAT CHANGED	WHAT IT MEANS FOR THE COACH
The Coach Certification cycle	The book now carries the full 13-Week Coach Certification Cycle (months 4 to 6, turning the shop's best person into its own coach) and the 26-Week Two-Cycle Overview mapping the advisor cycle and the coach cycle end to end.
Nine Boss Battles	Every count, drill, gate, and promotion bar now runs on nine bosses. Boss 9 (the Second Opinion) is a two-person play — see the Doctrine Updates reference in Chapter 2 and the coaching guidance in Chapter 9.
New audit lenses	Ride-alongs and daily call audits now check: no pre-education on the phone, WHEN the inspection is introduced (not just whether), the keys moment at intake, reassurance opens on 2nd/3rd-base calls, and the Short Stop Reinforcement Rule on Boss 9.
Coaching Tone & Status	New chapter: how to coach tone and status — worked SBI on delivery, the status-leak audit (the word "just" is the tell; the standard is zero), the tone-rep drill set, and the weekly video-energy review on a phone screen. Jeremy Miner's NEPQ is the recommended outside study for tone.
The customer-for-life scoring lens	Objection reps — Boss 9 above all — are scored not on "did we save this repair" but on "did the customer leave programmed with: if I have a problem with my car, it goes to this shop."

What Changed in the Advisor System You Coach

DOCTRINE	THE ONE-LINE VERSION
The Quick Close opens every call	Answer the customer's question and close for the visit in the same breath. No shop introduction until the appointment is secured; East-West if they can't come now.
Two inbound versions + Concern Discovery	Direct ask closes immediately; price/quote calls run concern question, urgency, no-charge line, close. The concern is captured in the customer's own words on every call.
Say Yes, Get Them In — No Pre-Education	No warnings or caveats on the phone; education waits for inspection evidence. Never "not just [what they asked for]"; the no-charge line is never justified.
The Root Concern Rule	No job is written on a self-diagnosis. The advisor asks why before writing the RO.
The keys moment + the audible	Intake ends with "And you're dropping this off with me, right?" — not a waiting-area offer. Waiting customers get the audible: one critical safety concern, shown in person.
The DVI timing rule	Book with the concern, never with the inspection. The DVI is presented after first approval, inside a waiting window, or via the shop intro video.
ISO "including" points backward	The total's "including" clause references only already-approved work, never the repair being presented.
Reassurance opens on 2nd/3rd base	Follow-up calls open with the approved work in progress; every new finding is labeled "additional."
Boss Battle 9 — The Second Opinion	Honest Disarm, then the Short Stop live play (reinforce first, never contradict), then the Repair Plan to a middle ground, closed on the Customer-for-Life Close.
Tone & Status — The Posture of a Professional	The advisor is the servant of the customer and never the subordinate: equal status, direct speech, no diminishing language ("I'm just calling to..." becomes "I'm calling with an update on your vehicle"). Rapport and credibility exist to earn the right to shoot straight. Counter mode in person; stage mode on the remote inspection video — play to the back row.
Clean-scripts-first format	Every taught script appears first as a clean, roleplay-ready block; the Script Book is the standalone clean companion for drills.

THE COACH'S OATH

I will coach behavior, not identity.

I will praise in public and correct in private.

I will give one ask per session, not three.

I will never coach a downstream symptom when an upstream metric is also red.

I will promote on evidence, never on tenure.

I will defend the rhythm like payroll.

And I will measure my success not by what I do — but by what they become.

DO WHAT'S RIGHT · DO WHAT'S FAIR · DO YOUR BEST

COACH SIGNATURE

DATE

Table of Contents

—	Version History — What's New Since Version 1	Changes to this book and to the advisor system it coaches, since the Version 1 book your shop received
—	Preface — How to Use This Book	Your position in the system, reading plan, what to keep within arm's reach
Ch 1	The Coach's Role — Mindset Before Mechanics	What a coach actually does, the six coaching principles, where coaching fails
Ch 2	The System You're Coaching — Compressed Reference	Core principle, 8 steps, Trust Triangle, Diamond, Dashboard, 10-step ISO, 9 Bosses, mastery ladder, named techniques, Doctrine Updates quick reference
Ch 3	SBI Feedback — The Only Format We Use	Situation · Behavior · Impact, with worked examples for praise and correction
Ch 3.5	Coaching Tone & Status	The status-leak audit ("just"), SBI on delivery, tone reps and pace drills, the weekly video-energy review, and the Jeremy Miner (NEPQ) study assignment
Ch 4	The Five-Beat Coaching Conversation	The 1:1 and hard-talk structure — open with the win, name the gap, ask don't tell, co-design, confirm
Ch 5	The Daily / Weekly Rhythm — Defend It Like Payroll	Standup, Take-Five drill, call audits, ride-along day, Friday 1:1s, scoreboard update
Ch 6	The KPI Dashboard & Red-Flag Diagnosis	The 9 numbers, the red-flag map, upstream-first rule, red-flag behaviors
Ch 7	Ride-Alongs & the Scorecard	Scoring all 8 steps 0–3, what to note, how the scorecard feeds Friday's 1:1
Ch 8	Call Audits & Drill Design	One audit per advisor per day, and how to design a five-minute drill that isolates one behavior
Ch 9	Roleplay Mastery — Playing the Customer	Personas, holding the objection, the Boss Rush protocol, scoring against the script
Ch 10	Mastery Levels & Promotion Checks	Evidence-based promotion bars for every level, Rookie → Champion
Ch 11	The Stalled Advisor — Diagnose Before You Prescribe	Knowledge / courage / system gaps, the difficult conversation, when to stop coaching and escalate
Ch 12	Coaching Recovery — Auditing L.A.S.T.	The 48-hour audit, the follow-up call, the banned word, recovery red flags
Ch 13	Champion Development, Calibration & Train-the-Trainer

Building successors, psychological safety, calibration protocol, the backup-coach ladder

Ch 14 The 90-Day Advisor Rollout

Stabilize (1–30) → Master (31–60) → Cement (61–90), week-by-week, failure modes, Day-90 gate

Ch 15 The 13-Week Coach Certification Cycle

Months 4–6: turning the shop's best person into its coach — sessions, Take-Five rhythm, gates, certification

Ch 16 The 26-Week Two-Cycle Overview

Advisor cycle (weeks 1–13) + Coach cycle (weeks 14–26) on one map, with calendar mechanics

App A The Coach's Worksheets

Ride-along scorecard, coach self-review, escalation list, the coach's own KPIs

How to Use This Book

A great curriculum coached badly produces nothing. A modest curriculum coached well produces champions.

Your Position in the System

You are the single most important person in the HAB Sales OS. The curriculum can be the greatest in the world — if you don't run the cadence, score the ride-alongs, deliver SBI feedback, and protect the system from drift, it dies in a drawer. Your role is to convert a binder into behavior change, week after week, advisor after advisor. The Advisor Book tells your team WHAT to do. This book tells you HOW to install it, measure it, and keep it alive — without losing the advisor.

Coaching is the systematic reduction of the advisor's uncertainty — the same principle the advisor applies to the customer, applied one level up.

Your Reading Plan

- Week 0: Read Chapters 1–4 cover-to-cover. Sign the Coach's Oath.
- Week 1: Begin Phase 1 of the 90-Day Plan (Chapter 14). Start running the rhythm in Chapter 5 immediately.
- Ongoing: Reference Chapter 6 whenever a KPI goes red, Chapter 7 before every ride-along, Chapter 11 when someone stalls. Re-read Chapters 3–4 quarterly to keep your own coaching sharp.
- Months 4–6: Run the 13-Week Coach Certification Cycle (Chapter 15) to build the shop's own coach so the system survives you.

What You Should Have Within Arm's Reach

- This book — for coaching depth.
- The Advisor Book v2.9 — so you can reference exactly what the advisors are learning, script by script.
- The Script Book v3.7 — the clean roleplay companion; every drill and roleplay rep runs from it.
- The Pocket Card — on your boom board.
- The Shop KPI Scoreboard — wall-mounted, color-coded, updated every Friday.

The advisor controls behavior. You control whether they keep getting better at it.

The Coach's Role — Mindset Before Mechanics

The six principles that govern every coaching interaction. Quote them back to yourself before any hard conversation.

AUDIENCE COACH / SM / OWNER	PRIMARY SKILL SBI FEEDBACK	PRIMARY KPI ADVISOR Δ / QTR	FAILURE MODE VAGUE FEEDBACK
--------------------------------	-------------------------------	--------------------------------	--------------------------------

What a Coach Actually Does

A coach in this system is not a manager who happens to give feedback. A coach is a designer of behavior change. Three things, every week, without fail:

1. Observes — rides along, audits calls, scores against the scorecards.
2. Reflects — delivers SBI feedback (Situation · Behavior · Impact), one written note per advisor per workday.
3. Compounds — holds the weekly cadence so improvement stacks week-over-week instead of resetting.

The Six Coaching Principles

PRINCIPLE	WHAT IT MEANS IN PRACTICE
1 · Specific Beats Sincere	"You did a great job" is worthless. "On the Subaru call, you handed the photo across the counter while saying the Risk line — that's exactly the Media Confirmation move" is gold. Always name the observable behavior.
2 · One Thing At a Time	End every session with ONE behavior change. Three is zero. An advisor can consciously work on one new behavior per week — pick the highest-leverage one and park the rest.
3 · Behavior, Not Identity	"You skipped Risk on three of five PRS items today," not "you're not a closer." Identity-level criticism creates defensiveness; behavior-level criticism creates change.
4 · Praise In Public, Correct In Private	Public correction is humiliation, even when the words are kind. Public praise multiplies; public correction shuts the team down for a week. This is math, not soft policy.
5 · Coach the Process, Score the Outcome	Reward running the bases in order even when the customer doesn't authorize. The advisor controls behavior, not whether a specific customer says yes. Coach the inputs; score the outputs. Never reverse this.
6 · Coach the Rare Skill, Not the Easy One	If an advisor is already a 90% Rapport closer, don't keep drilling Rapport. Find the skill stuck at 30% — the listening, the silence, the no-kitchen-sink discipline. The rare skill is where the next level lives.

Where Coaching Fails (and How to Avoid It)

FAILURE PATTERN	WHAT'S HAPPENING	FIX
"I'm too busy to coach this week."	Operations ate the cadence. Install slows immediately.	Owner blocks the coach's morning calendar. Non-negotiable. Operational fires get covered by SAs.
"Great call, keep it up."	Vague feedback rewires nothing.	Every note in SBI format. If you can't name the Situation and the Behavior, you weren't observing.
Correcting three things in one 1:1.	The advisor leaves with zero.	One gap per session — the most coachable one.
Coaching the number instead of the step.	"Get your authorization rate up" is a wish, not a coaching move.	Use the red-flag map (Chapter 6): trace the number to the upstream step and drill that.
Promoting on a feeling.	Promotions become political; trust in the ladder erodes.	Evidence bars in Chapter 10. Show it, don't claim it.

COACH'S CORNER · THE MIRROR

Everything you're about to require of advisors — scripts, drills, mastery checks, self-audits — this book requires of you. Your drills are ride-alongs. Your script is SBI. Your mastery check is the Coach Certification in Chapter 15. Your scoreboard is the advisor team's quarterly level change. Model it.

The System You're Coaching — Compressed Reference

You cannot coach what you cannot see. This chapter is the whole Advisor system on a few pages — the full depth lives in the Advisor Book v2.9.

The Core Principle

Sales is not persuasion. Sales is the systematic reduction of uncertainty. We do not sell repairs. We manufacture certainty — and certainty buys repairs by itself.

The customer enters uncertain, fearful, or defensive; they leave educated, confident, and loyal. Every step removes one specific uncertainty. When a step fails, the advisor didn't "lose the sale" — they left an uncertainty in place. Your diagnosis always starts with: which uncertainty survived?

The 8 Steps and What Each Removes

#	STEP	UNCERTAINTY REMOVED	COACH LISTENS FOR
1	Establish Rapport	"Am I going to be sold or helped here?"	Smile in the voice, the pause, the relief line, name x3, no price quoted, no pre-education.
2	Establish Credibility	"Are these people competent?"	Full 90-second tour, warranty unprompted, transport offered, no bragging.
3	Collect Data / Custody	"Do they understand my situation?"	Symptom translated to concern, boom board complete, East-West used, the keys moment run, customer separated from the vehicle.
4	Inspect & Analyze	"Are they making this up?"	Full DVI, media on every Yellow/Red, walk-the-bay within 15 min, Green/Yellow/Red by the spec question, DVI introduced at the right TIME (after first approval, inside a waiting window).
5	Build & Strategize	"What should I do, in what order?"	Diamond order locked before the call, PRS built for every Red, Good-Good-Bad planned, no kitchen-sink.
6	Present	"Why this, why now, what's it cost?"	10-step ISO, media confirmation, re-engagement every 60–90s, NO pause between Investment and Coverage.
7	Overcome Objections	The customer's remaining doubts	Listen first, never argue, never "but," the right Boss script, re-ask for the close.
8	Execute the Close	The decision moment	Assumptive / choice / direction-facing close; Home Plate run warm and complete.

Module 9 — L.A.S.T. Recovery: Listen → Acknowledge → Solve → Thank, in order, every time. Banned word: "policy." 24-hour status-update window. The Service Recovery Paradox: a well-recovered complaint customer becomes more loyal than one who never had a problem.

The Trust Triangle

Every customer silently grades the advisor on Competence ("do they know what they're doing?"), Transparency ("are they hiding anything?"), and Trustworthiness ("would they do this for family?"). Score all three → price becomes irrelevant. Lose any one → price becomes the only conversation. When you hear a price objection, diagnose which leg broke — it's usually not price.

The Baseball Diamond

BASE	PLAY	CONTENT
1st — ISOLATE	Sell the customer's original concern first.	The thing they came in for (or safety if no concern). Without 1st base, no customer cares what else we found.
2nd — EXPAND	Additional findings, separate call.	Red items from the DVI, in PRS order, most safety-critical first.
Short Stop — SAVE	Missed-sale re-open, fresh voice.	The "let me think about it" turn. Missed-Sale Recovered % lives here.
3rd — PROTECT	Maintenance, soft sell.	Yellow items: fluids by interval, alignment, etc. Real opt-out offered.
Home — REINFORCE	Final review + next visit.	Confirm the work, benefits, direction-facing close. Retention is built here.

Hang up between bases — encouraged. Slower per call, materially higher close rate. Kitchen-sinking is the #1 trust killer.

The Vehicle Health Dashboard

One question per DVI finding: "Does it operate within manufacturer specifications?" GREEN — yes, in spec: notify healthy (primes Good-Good-Bad). YELLOW — yes, but flag: watch or schedule maintenance; an offer, not an ask. RED — no, out of spec: full PRS, strategize the base, must address. The rule is binary on the spec question, not on perceived severity — coach advisors who soften a Red into a Yellow because they don't want to push. A broken stereo button and a broken brake pad are the same rule; where they get sold is strategy (Chapter 5 of the Advisor Book).

The 10-Step ISO Presentation

1 Greeting + frame · 2 Recap concern (co-review) · 3 Media confirmation · 4 Health overview · 5 Walk the green · 6 Walk the yellow · 7 Walk the red (PRS each) · 8 Investment · 9 Coverage · 10 Direction question. The structural rule: 8 and 9 are one beat, not two. The pause between Investment and Coverage is where deals die — score it as a critical gap on every ride-along. And the total's "including" clause points backward: it references only already-approved work, never the repair being presented.

The 9 Boss Battles (catalog + coaching lever)

BOSS	OBJECTION	THE LEVER YOU'RE COACHING TOWARD
1	"I'm selling the car"	Reframe against the real alternative — cost-of-replacement math, not repair vs. $0.
2	"Price is too high"	Anti-Lowest-Price Brag. Never apologize for price, never disparage the competitor — raise your own bar.
3	"No money right now"	Money Reframe — "no money" means "not today"; pivot to financing, stay on the line for the approval.
4	"Talk to my spouse"	Three-Way Bypass — offer to deliver the PRS to the spouse directly so it isn't retold second-hand.
5	"I'll wait" / "just the safety stuff"	Clarify safety vs. maintenance. Agree, defer, and schedule the deferred items before they leave.
6	"You're always selling"	Pro Obligation Frame — from salesperson to fiduciary; the customer keeps control.
7	"I need my car today"	Solve logistics first (loaner/Uber/pickup), then return to the repair.
8	"Parts & labor breakdown?"	Refuse the apples-to-apples frame — protection program, not parts and minutes.
9	"Second opinion / I can get it cheaper"	Honest Disarm, then the Short Stop live play (reinforce first, NEVER contradict the advisor), then the Repair Plan to a middle ground. The prize is a customer for life.

Universal rules: never argue · acknowledge first · find the real concern · pivot to value or risk, never discount · re-ask for the close. Full battle scripts: Advisor Book Chapter 7.

The Mastery Ladder

1 Rookie (reads scripts) → 2 Advisor (runs scripts naturally, concern vs. symptom) → 3 Closer (runs the bases, PRS by heart, East-West) → 4 Pro (defeats all 9 Bosses, re-opens missed sales) → 5 Champion (requested by name, trains others, owns culture). Advisor → Closer is the hardest jump; Pro → Champion is the longest. Promotion bars: Chapter 10.

The Named Techniques (cheat sheet)

PHASE	TECHNIQUES
Booking	"When Is Now a Good Time" Quick Close · Say Yes, Get Them In — No Pre-Education · Root Concern Rule · East-West Scheduling · Concern vs. Symptom · The Relief Line · 90-Second Friendship Window · The Keys Moment + The Audible
Trust	Invisible Scorecard · Trust Triangle · Co-Review · Media Confirmation · Equal-Status Posture · Earned Directness · Tone Matching (NEPQ) · Counter Mode vs. Stage Mode
Presentation	Good-Good-Bad · PRS · Base Selling (Diamond) · Vehicle Health Dashboard · Anti-Lowest-Price Brag
Closes	Assumptive Close · Direction-Facing Close · Three-Way Bypass · Pro Obligation Frame · Money Reframe · Short Stop Re-Open · Honest Disarm · The Short Stop, Live (Reinforcement Rule) · The Repair Plan · Customer-for-Life Close · Momentum Funnel
Recovery	L.A.S.T. · Service Recovery Paradox · 24-Hour Recovery Window
Coaching	SBI Feedback · Five-Beat Coaching Conversation · Boss Rush · HAB Oath · Coach's Oath

Doctrine Updates — Coach's Quick Reference (Advisor Book v2.9)

The advisor system has moved since Version 1. Each update below names the doctrine, where the full teaching lives in the Advisor Book v2.9, and what you audit for as coach.

DOCTRINE	ADVISOR BOOK V2.9	WHAT THE COACH AUDITS
"When Is Now a Good Time" Quick Close	Ch 1 + Ch 1.5	The inbound call answers the question and closes for the visit immediately. No shop introduction before the appointment is secured.
Two inbound versions + Concern Discovery	Ch 1 + Ch 1.5	Direct ask: close immediately. Price or quote: concern question before the close, every time. The advisor can state the concern in the customer's own words before the call ends.
Say Yes, Get Them In — No Pre-Education	Ch 1.5 + Ch 3	Phone audits: no warnings, no caveats, no hint that the requested service may not fix it. No "not just [what they asked for]." The no-charge line delivered clean, with no justification tail.
Root Concern Rule	Ch 3	No job written on a self-diagnosis. The "why" question asked before the RO is written.
Keys moment + the audible	Ch 3	Intake ends with "And you're dropping this off with me, right?" — never a waiting-area offer. If the customer waits, the audible runs: one critical safety concern, shown in person.
DVI timing rule ("Selling the Inspection Too Early")	Ch 4	Audit WHEN the inspection is introduced, not just whether. Never booked with the DVI; presented after the concern is addressed or first approval is secured, inside a waiting window, or via the shop intro video.
ISO "including" points backward	Ch 6	The total's "including" clause references only already-approved work, never the repair being presented.
Reassurance opens on 2nd/3rd base	Ch 5	Second- and third-base calls open with in-progress reassurance on the approved work; every new finding is labeled "additional."
Boss Battle 9 + the Short Stop live play	Ch 7	Nine bosses everywhere. On Boss 9: the Short Stop reinforces the advisor before any problem-solving (a contradiction fails the rep), the Repair Plan is offered, and the close is scored on the customer-for-life lens.
Tone & Status — The Posture of a Professional	Ch 0.5	No status-shrinking language on any audited call: no "just" in front of a reason, no apology openers, no permission-to-speak. Tone matched to the moment (slower and lower on discovery and objections; even and steady on investment + coverage). Counter mode when the customer is present; stage mode — back-row energy — on the remote inspection video.
Clean-scripts-first format	Whole book + Script Book v3.7	Roleplay and drills run from clean scripts; the teaching callouts follow. Drill from the Script Book at the counter.

SBI Feedback — The Only Format We Use

Every coaching note, every 1:1, every ride-along debrief uses the same three-part sentence. Praise and correction alike.

The SBI Sentence

"On [Situation], you [Behavior], which [Impact]."

The sentence has three slots, in order. Skip any slot and the feedback collapses:

PART	WHAT GOES IN THE SLOT	EXAMPLE
1 · Situation	When and where — specific, recent, observed.	"On the 11am call with Mrs. Garcia..."
2 · Behavior	What they did or didn't do — observable, not interpreted.	"...you stated the price and then paused..."
3 · Impact	Why it mattered — the consequence in the room.	"...and she opened the price negotiation."

Worked SBI Sentences

WORKED EXAMPLES · CORRECTION AND PRAISE

Correction: "On the Civic ABS call this morning, you paused after stating the investment, which gave Maria room to bring up the price at her brother's shop."

Correction: "On the F-150 cooling system PRS, you led with the photo of the leak instead of leading with the risk, which is why she said 'so it just looks bad?' instead of authorizing."

Praise: "On the Tahoe walk-in at 8am, you offered the tour without being asked, which is why the DVI conversation didn't feel like a hard sell when we got there."

Praise: "On the 11am call, you said the investment number and went immediately into the warranty without pausing. The customer didn't flinch and authorized in the next breath — that's the Level-3 close I've been looking for."

Vague vs. SBI

TYPE	VAGUE (DON'T DO THIS)	SBI (DO THIS)
Praise	"Great call!"	"On the 11am call (S), you went from investment straight into warranty with no pause (B). The customer authorized in the next breath (I)."
Correction	"You need to do better on objections."	"On the 2pm call with the spouse objection (S), you went straight to discounting instead of offering the three-way call (B). That sets a precedent that complaining gets discounts, and it killed our chance to talk to the actual decision-maker (I). Let's drill Boss 4 together this afternoon."

DRILL · THE SBI REWRITE

Setup: collect five pieces of feedback you gave (or heard) this week. Rewrite each as a full three-slot SBI sentence, out loud.

Score: all three slots present? Behavior observable? Impact concrete?

Goal: one written SBI note per advisor per workday, without exception. An audit that doesn't produce an SBI note didn't happen.

PRO TIP · SBI WORKS IN BOTH DIRECTIONS

Most coaches use structure only for correction and go vague on praise. Specific praise rewires faster than generic praise — and it's what earns you the right to be specific when you correct.

Coaching Tone & Status

Advisors drill words. Customers buy delivery. Tone and status are coached behaviors — not personality traits — and this chapter is how you coach them.

The Doctrine You're Coaching

The advisor-facing teaching lives in Advisor Book Ch 0.5 ("Tone & Status — The Posture of a Professional"). The compressed version, so you can hear a violation the moment it happens:

PRINCIPLE	THE ONE-LINE VERSION
Servant, not subordinate	The advisor serves the customer completely and never ranks below them. Equal status, direct speech. The advisor never lowers their status to elevate the customer's — even though the advisor is the servant.
Status Shrinking (anti-pattern)	Diminishing language — above all the word "just" ("I'm just calling to follow up") — that says "my time is not as valuable as yours; is it okay that I'm talking to you?" Coached out on sight. The replacement states the reason as an equal: "I'm calling with an update on your vehicle."
Earned Directness	The deeper why of Modules 1 and 2: customers like directness most of all, but you cannot be direct with someone until rapport and credibility are established. The first two modules are the license to shoot straight.
Tone Matching	Slower and lower on discovery and objections (curious, never adamant); even and steady through investment + coverage; delivery matched so the customer HEARS what we need them to hear.
Counter mode vs. stage mode	Customer present in the shop: quieter, calmer, more direct. Customer remote receiving the inspection by video: theater — play to the back row with exaggerated expression, vocal energy, and tone to grab and hold attention through a phone screen.

The Status-Leak Audit

Status leaks are countable, which is what makes them coachable. On every audited call, tally three things: the word "just" in front of any reason for the call, apology openers ("sorry to bother you"), and permission-to-speak framing ("do you have a second?" from an advisor who scheduled the call). The standard is zero. This is the easiest coaching win in the book: the behavior is binary, the fix is a one-line rewrite, and advisors start hearing it in themselves within a week.

WORKED SBI · TONE AND STATUS

Correction (status): "On the 2pm follow-up call, you opened with 'I'm just calling to check in,' which told the customer the call didn't matter before the update even started."

Correction (tone): "On the ballpark push, your pace sped up and your pitch went up, which the customer heard as nerves, and she pushed twice as hard on price."

Praise (tone): "On the water-pump presentation, you slowed down and dropped your voice on the risk line, which is why he stopped multitasking and asked what you would do if it were your car."

Praise (status): "On the estimate call, you opened with 'I'm calling with an update on your vehicle' at a steady pace, which is why she took the news as information instead of a pitch."

Tone Reps — The Drill Set

DRILL · THE JUST JAR (TEAM, ONGOING)

Setup: every "just," apology opener, or permission-to-speak moment caught in a call audit goes on the board next to the advisor's name.

Score: team total per week, posted.

Goal: a zero week. Celebrate it like a KPI win — it is one.

DRILL · ONE LINE, FOUR DELIVERIES

Setup: one script line, delivered four ways: fast and flat · firm and adamant · slow, low, and curious · full stage energy.

Score: the team votes on which delivery they would buy from, and says why.

Goal: every advisor can produce all four on demand. That is tone control, not tone luck.

DRILL · HALF-SPEED DISCOVERY

Setup: the advisor runs the concern question at half their normal pace, one note lower.

Score: does it land as curiosity instead of interrogation? Partner rates 1–3.

Goal: the slower, lower delivery becomes the default on live discovery questions.

DRILL · BACK-ROW REPS (VIDEO)

Setup: the advisor records the same DVI finding twice — once at counter energy, once at stage energy. The team watches both on a phone.

Score: attention held, 1–10, scored cold by teammates.

Goal: the stage version at 8+. Advisors always assume stage mode will feel like too much; the phone screen proves it doesn't.

The Video-Energy Review — Weekly

1. Pull one inspection video per advisor per week.
2. Watch it on a phone, never a monitor — you are grading what the customer actually experienced.

3. Check the mode first: was the customer present (counter mode: quieter, calmer, direct) or remote (stage mode: back-row expression, energy, and tone)? A mode mismatch is the coaching gap, before any line-by-line notes.
4. Score attention-hold 1–10. Note the timestamp where YOUR attention dipped — that moment is the SBI Situation.
5. One SBI note per video, same as any audit. An audit that doesn't produce an SBI note didn't happen.

STOP · NEVER SCORE VIDEO ENERGY FROM A DESKTOP MONITOR

A big screen flatters low energy. The customer watches on a phone, half-distracted, thumb hovering. Grade in the customer's conditions or the grade is fiction.

The Recommended Study — Jeremy Miner (NEPQ)

For tone, HAB's recommended outside study is Jeremy Miner's NEPQ material — The New Model of Selling and the NEPQ Black Book. Assign it in Phase 2 of the rollout, one section a week, and mine it for exactly four behaviors: slowing the pace, lowering the tone, softer curious approaches instead of firm adamant statements, and matching delivery to the moment so the customer hears what we need them to hear. Turn each behavior into a Take-Five drill. Never assign reading without a rep attached.

COACH'S CORNER · ONE VARIABLE AT A TIME

Tone is coached like a golf swing: one variable per rep — pace OR pitch OR energy, never all three at once. When tone and words are both broken, fix tone first; the right words in the wrong tone still lose. And keep the scoring lens singular: did the customer HEAR what we needed them to hear? If yes, leave the rep alone, even if it isn't how you would have delivered it.

The Five-Beat Coaching Conversation

For 1:1s and any hard talk. Run it in order — the structure is what keeps the relationship intact.

The Five Beats

BEAT	WHAT	SAMPLE WORDS	TIME
1 · Open with the win	Specific, recent, observed. Sets the conversation as collaborative, not punitive. (Two minutes of human first — no agenda.)	"How's your week going?" then "On Tuesday's call you..."	2–4 min
2 · Name the gap (SBI)	One gap. The most coachable one. Specific Situation → Behavior → Impact.	"On the F-150 PRS, you skipped the Risk, which is why she deferred."	2 min
3 · Ask, don't tell	The advisor's answer reveals whether this is a knowledge gap, a courage gap, or a system gap. Coach the actual cause.	"What was happening when you skipped the Risk?" · "Walk me through how that call landed for you."	4 min
4 · Co-design the practice	The advisor proposes, the coach refines. Self-selected drills get done; assigned drills get resented.	"What drill would help? When are you going to do it?"	2 min
5 · Confirm the commitment	One sentence the advisor writes down. That sentence becomes Friday's check-in. Close with belief.	"Tomorrow I will lead with Risk on every red PRS item before showing the photo." · "You're one cycle away from Pro."	2 min

Twelve minutes total. It scales from a 5-minute hot debrief to a 30-minute quarterly check-in. The order matters — especially beats 1 and 5.

PRO TIP · GET THE ADVISOR'S READ BEFORE YOU GIVE YOURS

In beat 3, ALWAYS ask what they thought of the call before offering your view. They usually already know what went wrong (so you're reinforcing self-coaching, not lecturing), and they hear correction from themselves far better than from you. Coaching is mostly Socratic.

STOP · ONE ASK PER SESSION

End every session with ONE behavior change. Three is zero. If you're tempted to add a second ask, write it down for next week instead.

COACH'S CORNER · WHEN THE CONVERSATION NEEDS TO BE HARD

Run the same five beats even when it feels mechanical — the structure protects both people. The dedicated hard-talk escalation (repeated non-improvement) has its own protocol in Chapter 11. Never run either conversation in the bullpen.

The Daily / Weekly Rhythm — Defend It Like Payroll

This is the ritual. Miss it one week and the install slows; miss it two weeks and the install dies.

The Rhythm Table

WHEN	WHO	RITUAL	TIME
Mon AM	All hands	Standup. Review last week's KPIs. Name the week's focus metric. One team commitment. Recite the HAB Oath once a week here.	20 min
Daily AM	All hands	15-minute drill (Take-Five), phase-appropriate per the rollout plan — Phase 1: tour drill; Phase 2: Boss Rush; Phase 3: recovery drill.	15 min
Daily	Coach	Audit ≥1 call per advisor with one SBI note in writing.	30–45 min
Wed	Coach	One full ride-along per advisor on rotation, scorecard filled (Chapter 7).	45 min
End of shift	Advisor	Self-audit worksheet — one win, one gap, one ask.	2 min
Fri PM	Coach + advisor	15-minute 1:1 each, Five-Beat structure (Chapter 4).	15 min × team
Fri PM	Owner	Update the KPI scoreboard. Color-code Green / Yellow / Red. Post visibly in the shop.	15 min

PRO TIP · COACHING REMOTELY

If you coach a shop remotely, the equivalent of "audit a call" is reviewing the advisor's notes and the customer outcome in the SMS log. The rhythm holds; only the medium changes.

STOP · THE RHYTHM IS THE SYSTEM

A great curriculum without a coaching cadence is just a binder. When operations tries to eat the cadence — and it will — the Owner's single most important behavior is showing up to the Monday standup every week and blocking the coach's morning calendar. Period.

COACH'S CORNER · ENERGY IS CONTENT

A flat huddle teaches nothing. The daily Take-Five is 15 minutes of standing, voices up, reps out loud — not an announcement meeting. If the team dreads it, shorten it and sharpen it; never cancel it.

The KPI Dashboard & Red-Flag Diagnosis

These are the only nine numbers an owner needs to know the system is working. Wall-mount them. Update weekly. Diagnose to the step.

The Shop KPI Dashboard

KPI	TARGET	MAPS TO
Inquiry → Appointment %	≥ 65%	M1 (Rapport) — leak indicator
Tour Delivery %	100%	M2 (Credibility) — discipline
DVI w/ Media %	≥ 95%	M4 (Inspect) — quality gate
PRS Completeness	100%	M5/M6 (Strategize/Present) — discipline
1st-Objection Close %	≥ 60%	M7 (Objections) — mastery
Authorization Rate	≥ 75%	M8 (Close) — outcome
Missed-Sale Recovered %	≥ 25%	Short Stop — effectiveness
ARO	Shop benchmark	Per-advisor variance flag
5-Star Review %	≥ 80%	Trust outcome scoreboard

STOP · THE UPSTREAM RULE

Never coach a downstream symptom when an upstream metric is also red. Fix the cause first. When two metrics go red in the same week, look for the common root cause one step earlier in the funnel. When a metric goes red two weeks in a row, the coaching focus for next week is automatically the upstream step.

The Red-Flag Diagnosis Map

RED METRIC	COACH THIS STEP FIRST	SPECIFIC DRILL / INTERVENTION
Inquiry → Appointment	M1 Rapport	The Relief Line + East-West, role-played 5×/day for one week.
Tour Delivery	M2 Credibility	Every advisor on the same tour script for one week; owner audits tour completion daily.
DVI w/ Media	M4 Inspect	Tech-side: no green-flag DVI accepted without at least one photo. Coach the techs, not the advisors.
PRS Completeness	M5 Strategize	Daily PRS audit: every red item must have all three (Photo + Risk + Solution) by EOD or it doesn't go to M6.
1st-Objection Close	M7 Objections	Boss Rush — one Boss Battle drilled per morning, cycle all 9, then start over.
Authorization Rate	Diagnose upstream first	If PRS and 1st-Objection are green, drill M6 (no-pause Investment-Coverage). If those are also green, the close itself needs work.
Missed-Sale Recovered	M5 Short Stop	Every missed sale gets a scripted, logged callback within 24 hours. KPI updates weekly.
ARO	M5/M6 base order	Audit Diamond order in the strategize step — most low-ARO shops are 3rd-basing items they should be 2nd-basing.
5-Star Reviews	M9 + retention	Cumulative. Look at the recovery log first — unrecovered complaints kill review averages fastest.

Red-Flag Behaviors — Stop the Drift Early

RED FLAG	WHAT IT PREDICTS	INTERVENTION
Quoting prices on the phone.	Crashed appointment rate within 30 days.	Re-run Module 1 drills. Audit greeting calls.
Skipping the shop tour for first-timers.	Price objections triple; trust craters.	Module 2 ride-along. Score every tour line for one week.
DVI without media on Yellow/Red items.	Authorization rate drops 15–25%.	Module 4 audit. Tech-advisor walk-the-bay reset.
Skipping Risk in PRS.	"Let me think about it" becomes the standard reply.	Module 5/6 PRS drill. Score Risk on every finding.
Pausing after Investment.	Sticker shock takes over the room.	Module 6 muscle-memory drill: Investment + Coverage in one breath.
Arguing with objections.	The customer leaves and never returns.	Module 7 Boss Rush. Acknowledgment drill. Listen for "but."
Same-call kitchen-sinking.	Authorization rate halves.	Module 5 anti-kitchen-sink intervention: recorded call replayed with the team, re-scripted as base calls.
Pre-educating on the phone.	The yes dies on the call; appointment rate drops.	Phone audit + Advisor Book Ch 1.5. Say yes, get them in; educate only after the inspection produces evidence.
Selling the inspection too early.	Resistance to the DVI; view-rate and 2nd-base authorization drop.	Audit WHEN the DVI is introduced. Re-anchor on booking with the concern and presenting inside a waiting window (Advisor Book Ch 4).
Offering the waiting area at intake.	Customer stays attached to the vehicle; the separation objective fails.	Drill the keys moment; run the audible for customers who wait (Advisor Book Ch 3).
2nd/3rd-base calls opening cold.	Customer feels re-sold instead of reassured; add-on authorization drops.	Audit for the in-progress reassurance open and the "additional" label on every finding (Advisor Book Ch 5).
Short Stop contradicts the advisor on Boss 9.	Reads as the shop making things up; the advisor's trustworthiness is destroyed.	Reinforcement Rule drill: reinforce first, problem-solve second (Advisor Book Ch 7). A contradiction fails the rep.
Status Shrinking on calls ("I'm just calling to...").	The advisor's authority erodes; education starts landing as a pitch, and follow-up calls stop getting answered.	The Just Jar + status-leak audit (Chapter 3.5). Every "just" open is rewritten as an update: "I'm calling with an update on your vehicle." Advisor Book Ch 0.5.

DRILL · TEN-SECOND DIAGNOSIS

Setup: a partner names any red KPI at random.

Rep: you name the upstream module and the prescribed drill within ten seconds.

Goal: the full map from memory. This is a Coach Certification requirement (Chapter 15, Week 5).

Ride-Alongs & the Scorecard

Sit through a full customer interaction, score behavior — not vibes — and feed Friday's 1:1.

The Scoring Scale

For each of the 8 steps, score 0–3:

SCORE	MEANING
0	Skipped.
1	Attempted, missing key elements.
2	Ran the step, minor gaps.
3	Textbook execution.

Total possible: 24. Most advisors hover at 14–18 in the first 60 days; Closers run 20+; Champions run 22+.

Also Note, Every Time

- One specific win — for the Friday open (beat 1).
- One specific gap — for the Friday SBI (beat 2).
- Which Boss Battle (if any) appeared, and how it was handled.
- Whether DVI media was used during the presentation.
- Whether the Investment-Coverage transition had a pause. Yes = critical gap.
- WHEN the inspection was introduced — booked with the concern, presented only after first approval or inside a waiting window? Selling the inspection too early is a critical gap.
- Whether intake ended with the keys moment ("And you're dropping this off with me, right?") — and, if the customer stayed, whether the audible ran.
- Whether 2nd/3rd-base calls opened with in-progress reassurance and labeled every finding "additional."
- On any Boss 9: whether the Short Stop reinforced the advisor before problem-solving, and whether the rep ended on the Customer-for-Life Close.
- Status leaks, counted: every "just" in front of a reason, apology opener, or permission-to-speak moment. Zero is the standard.
- On inspection media: did the delivery match the room — counter mode (quieter, calmer, direct) with the customer present, stage mode (back-row expression, energy, and tone) when the customer is remote?

The Printable Scorecard

RIDE-ALONG SCORECARD — ONE PER ADVISOR PER WEEK

- ☐ Advisor: _____ · Date / shift: _____ · Workflow observed (RO #): _____
- ☐ Step 1 — Rapport (0–3): ____ Step 2 — Credibility / tour: ____ Step 3 — Custody / concern doc: ____
Step 4 — DVI quality: ____
- ☐ Step 5 — Base order / no kitchen-sink: ____ Step 6 — PRS + investment/coverage flow: ____ Step 7 —
Objection counters: ____ Step 8 — Close: ____
- ☐ TOTAL (/24): ____
- ☐ Boss Battle observed + how handled: _____
- ☐ DVI media used in presentation (Y/N): ____ · Investment-Coverage pause (Y/N — Y is critical): ____
- ☐ Specific win (one behavior): _____
- ☐ Specific gap (one behavior, SBI-ready): _____
- ☐ Re-audit date: _____

PRO TIP · SCORE BEHAVIOR, NOT VIBES

If you can't quote the moment that earned the score, you weren't observing closely enough. Every score on the sheet should map to a sentence you could put in an SBI note.

COACH'S CORNER · THE SCORECARD IS A FEEDER, NOT A FILING EXERCISE

The scorecard exists to produce Friday's beat 1 (the win) and beat 2 (the gap). If a completed scorecard never shows up in a 1:1, the ride-along was tourism.

Call Audits & Drill Design

One audited call per advisor per day, one written SBI note each — and drills built from what the audits reveal.

The Daily Audit Protocol

- 1. Pull at least one call (or workflow) per advisor per day. Rotate call types: inbound, presentation, second/third-base follow-up, recovery.
- 2. Score against the current focus metric for the week — not against everything at once.
- 3. Write one SBI note per advisor. An audit that doesn't produce an SBI note didn't happen.
- 4. Deliver praise notes same-day and publicly; deliver correction notes privately, ideally inside a Five-Beat micro-conversation.
- 5. On inbound audits, listen for pre-education — any warning that the requested fix may not work, any "not just [what they asked for]," any justification tail on the no-charge line. On presentation audits, note WHEN the inspection entered the conversation. On follow-up audits, check the reassurance open and the "additional" label.
- 6. On every audit, regardless of call type, count status leaks — the word "just," apology openers, permission-to-speak — and note whether the tone matched the moment. On video audits, check the performance mode: counter mode in person, stage mode on camera (Chapter 3.5).

PRO TIP · READ THE RO LIKE A COLD TECH

For custody audits, read the documented concern as if you were the tech walking into the bay cold. If you can't reproduce the customer's symptom from the writing alone, the intake broke down — rehearse it aloud with the advisor. Don't scold. Rehearse.

Drill Design — The Rules

A good drill isolates ONE behavior, takes five minutes, and repeats daily until reflexive.

RULE	WHY
One behavior per drill.	A drill that practices three things practices none. "The pause" is a drill. "Better phone calls" is a wish.
Five minutes, standing, out loud.	Reps build instinct; instinct survives pressure. Sitting discussion builds opinions.
Scored, 1–3 or 1–10.	What gets scored gets repeated. Post the leaderboard for team drills.
Repeats daily until reflexive.	Then retire it and rotate the next behavior in. Don't hold a drill past mastery — boredom kills the huddle.
Sourced from this week's audits.	Listen for the one behavior that keeps repeating across advisors — that's tomorrow's drill.

DRILL · DESIGN ONE NOW

Setup: take this week's audit notes. Find the behavior that appeared most across advisors.

Rep: design a five-minute drill for that one behavior — setup, rep, score, goal — and run it at tomorrow's Take-Five.

Goal: a full week of Take-Fives running on drills you designed from your own audit notes. (This is Coach Certification Week 7.)

COACH'S CORNER · THE DRILL LIBRARY YOU ALREADY OWN

The Advisor Book ships with named drills for every module — 1.A Smile-Through-Voice, 1.B The Pause, 1.C Name x3, 1.D Cold-Open, 1.E East-West Speed Reps, 2.A The 90-Second Tour, 5.A Base-Order Re-Script, 7.A Boss Rush, 9.A Silence Tolerance, 9.B BUT Buster, 9.C Specificity, 9.D Full Combo. Rotate them by rollout phase before inventing new ones.

Roleplay Mastery — Playing the Customer

The coach must be the shop's toughest customer. The drill is only as good as the customer you play.

How to Hold an Objection

1. Pick a persona — vehicle, concern, worry, budget. The richer the persona, the better the rep. (Personas: friendly first-timer, comparison shopper with another quote, hostile repeat customer, analytical spouse on a three-way, hot counter complainant.)
2. Hold the objection realistically. Don't fold on the first counter — a real customer doesn't. Give ground only when the advisor runs the actual script move.
3. Escalate if the advisor argues. Arguing is the failure mode; make it cost something in the roleplay, exactly like it costs on the floor.
4. Score the response against the script, not against your mood. The script book is the rubric — acknowledge first? real concern found? value pivot, no discount? re-ask for the close?

The Boss Rush Protocol

DRILL · THE BOSS RUSH (TEAM, 15 MINUTES, DAILY IN PHASE 2)

Setup: all hands, standing. Coach throws random Boss lines from the nine; advisors counter in turn, no notes.

Score: 1–3 per counter. Leaderboard posted. Track who has cleared all nine in live calls within 30 days.

Escalation: once the team clears the basic lines, add persona pressure — interruptions, emotion, the second objection stacked behind the first.

Goal: the fastest path to Level 4 (Pro) on the team.

COACH'S CORNER · BOSS 9 IS A TWO-PERSON PLAY — AUDIT THE REINFORCEMENT

Boss 9 (the Second Opinion) cannot be drilled solo: someone must play the Short Stop — ideally the technician, realistically whoever the shop trusts to run the play. When you coach it, the first thing you audit is the REINFORCEMENT RULE: the Short Stop must back what the advisor already told the customer, exactly as presented, before any problem-solving begins. A Short Stop who contradicts the advisor fails the rep on the spot — contradiction reads as the shop making things up, and it destroys the advisor's trustworthiness. Then score the collaboration: was the Repair Plan offered ("Can we create a repair plan where we take care of a portion of it today and move on?"), were the levers worked (flexible payment options, comped labor time, the comped accompanying oil service), and did the rep end on the Customer-for-Life Close? The scoring lens for the whole battle is not "did we save this repair" — it is "did this customer leave programmed with: if I have a problem with my car, it goes to this shop."

PRO TIP · PICK TOMORROW'S BOSS FROM TODAY'S CALLS

Listen for the objection your advisors handle worst this week — that's tomorrow's boss. Drill the weakness, not the favorite.

COACH'S CORNER · SCORING A ROLEPLAY REP

For each counter, mark four checkpoints: (1) acknowledged first, no "but"; (2) found the real concern with a clarifying question; (3) pivoted to value or risk, never discount; (4) re-asked for the close. 4/4 = 3 points. 3/4 = 2. Anything less = 1, and the advisor re-runs it immediately — the re-run is where the learning happens.

Mastery Levels & Promotion Checks

Promotion is demonstrated in live customer calls, never in roleplay alone. Show it, don't claim it.

The Promotion Bars

PROMOTION	EVIDENCE REQUIRED (LIVE CALLS)
Rookie → Advisor	5 consecutive calls where the advisor identifies concern vs. symptom correctly without coach prompting, and runs M1–M2 without visibly reading the script.
Advisor → Closer	10 consecutive calls where Diamond order is correct, PRS is complete, and the East-West close is used. At least 3 must include a Boss Battle handled to authorization.
Closer → Pro	All 9 Boss Battles defeated in live calls within a single 30-day window. At least 2 Short Stop re-opens that converted to authorization. Library-certified (3 random worked examples from memory, all 10 beats, Risk explicit).
Pro → Champion	Customer requests by name (verifiable from intake logs). Trains another advisor through at least one mastery check. Owns a shop-floor coaching ritual — leads the daily drill or a Friday 1:1 for peers.

COACH'S CORNER · DON'T PROMOTE ON A FEELING — AND DON'T SIT ON EVIDENCE

Promotion changes how the rest of the team behaves. Wait for the evidence — but promote when it's earned, even if it's faster than expected. Sitting on earned evidence teaches the team the ladder is political. The Champion promotion in particular is the moment a shop's culture inflects: make it visible — lapel pin, name on the wall, public recognition.

PRO TIP · KEEP AN EVIDENCE FILE PER ADVISOR

Calls, numbers, scorecards. When you propose a promotion, you should be able to hand the owner the file and let the evidence make the case. (Building one is Coach Certification Week 9.)

STOP · TENURE IS NOT EVIDENCE

"He's been here two years" is not a promotion bar. Neither is "she's due." Evidence-based, always — it's in both Oaths for a reason.

The Stalled Advisor — Diagnose Before You Prescribe

Stuck at the same KPI for 3+ weeks? The cause is one of three gaps. Prescribe drills for a system problem and you lose the advisor to frustration.

The Three Gaps

GAP	WHAT IT LOOKS LIKE	THE SOLUTION
1 · Knowledge gap	They don't know the script or technique. Asked to run it, they can't.	Re-teach the specific module. Drill it daily for 5 days. Mastery check.
2 · Courage gap	They know the script but won't use it — afraid of the customer's reaction.	Do 3 ride-alongs in a row where the coach demonstrates the move live. Courage is borrowed before it's earned.
3 · System gap	Something in the shop prevents the skill: no DVI tablet, no quiet space for calls, scheduling chaos.	Fix the system. Coaching cannot overcome a broken system.

The diagnostic question is Five-Beat beat 3: "What was happening when you skipped the Risk?" The advisor's answer tells you which gap you're looking at. Coach the actual cause.

The Difficult Conversation — The Advisor Who Won't Improve

Every coach will face the advisor who attends drills, nods along, and changes nothing. This is not a coaching problem — it's a clarity problem. Run this conversation, in this order, exactly once:

1. Name the pattern, not the person. "Over the last three weeks, I've scored PRS Completeness at 60%, 55%, 50%. That's a trend, and it's gone the wrong direction."
2. Ask what's in the way. "What's making this hard?" Then actually listen for 30 seconds without interrupting. Sometimes it's a personal issue, a tool problem, or a misunderstanding of the standard.
3. Make the standard explicit and observable. "The standard for this role is 100% PRS on every finding. Here's what that looks like in practice."
4. Set a clear 30-day improvement gate. "In 30 days, the metric needs to be Green for two consecutive weeks. Here's the support I'll provide: [specific drills, ride-alongs, 1:1 cadence]. Here's what happens if it doesn't: [next step]."
5. Document, then follow through. Either they improve — praise the climb out — or the conversation you've already had becomes the foundation for the next step. Coaching that has no consequence isn't coaching — it's wishing.

STOP · NEVER IN THE BULLPEN

Office with the door closed, or off-site if necessary. A public version of this conversation is humiliating for the advisor, terrifying for the team, and destroys psychological safety across the whole shop.

When to Stop Coaching and Escalate

Some situations don't belong in coaching — they belong with the owner. Surface each with specific SBI documentation. Do not let coaching become a way to avoid a hard staffing decision.

- ☐ Advisor is consistently late or absent — attendance is not a coaching problem.
- ☐ Advisor refuses to use the script in roleplay — not a knowledge or courage gap; a willingness gap.
- ☐ Advisor is acting against the HAB Oath knowingly (e.g., quoting on the phone after being corrected three times).
- ☐ Advisor is creating friction in the shop culture.
- ☐ Three full 90-day cycles without progression past Rookie.

Coaching Recovery — Auditing L.A.S.T.

A complaint is a coaching rep. Audit every recovery, protect the banned-word rule, and convert recovered customers into reviews.

What You're Auditing

Score every recovery against the four beats, in order:

BEAT	PASS LOOKS LIKE	FAIL LOOKS LIKE
L — Listen	30+ seconds uninterrupted. "Okay." "I understand." "Go ahead."	Interrupting to defend or explain.
A — Acknowledge	Emotion mirrored before facts. "And," never "but."	"I understand, BUT..." — the "but" deletes everything before it.
S — Solve	Specific, time-bound, owned: "I will call you personally by 3pm."	"We'll get back to you." Vague ages into a Yelp review.
T — Thank	Complaint reframed as a gift; loyalty locked in.	Skipped because "they're still upset."

The Coach's Recovery Protocol

1. 48-hour audit. Any time an advisor handles a complaint, walk through the interaction with them within 48 hours. Not punitive — coaching, using the Advisor Book's Recovery Mastery Check as the scorecard.
2. 24-hour window enforcement. Any unresolved complaint must have a status update to the customer within 24 hours, even if the resolution isn't ready. Silence past 24 hours doubles the loyalty damage.
3. The follow-up call. You (or the manager) personally call the recovered customer 5–7 days after resolution. Two purposes: confirm satisfaction, and ask for a review. Well-recovered customers leave the best reviews the shop will ever get.
4. Praise the Listen, not the Solve. Most coaches default to praising the fix. The Listen is the skill 95% of advisors get wrong — praising the rare skill rewires the team faster.

STOP · LISTEN FOR THE WORD "POLICY" ANYWHERE IN THE SHOP

"Policy" is banned in recovery — it tells the customer the rule matters more than they do. When you hear it, replace it on the spot with what we'll actually do: "the way we handle this is..." Also banned as first moves: defending, explaining, and discounting before the problem is solved.

COACH'S CORNER · THE REPEAT-COMPLAINT RED FLAG

If the same advisor produces three or more complaints in 30 days tracing to the same root — communication, follow-through, attention to detail — it's a behavior pattern, not bad luck. Address the underlying skill directly, not just the L.A.S.T. execution. And check the recovery log first whenever the 5-Star Review KPI drops: unrecovered complaints kill review averages fastest.

DRILL · SCORE A REAL RECOVERY

Setup: pull one real complaint from this week.

Rep: score it against all four L.A.S.T. beats (1–5 each) with the advisor present, using the after-action worksheet from the Advisor Book.

Goal: every complaint in the shop scored within 48 hours, every recovered customer called within 7 days.

Champion Development, Calibration & Train-the-Trainer

A coach who does everything forever is a bottleneck. Build successors, keep scoring honest, and make the system survive you.

Champion Development — Teach It to Own It

Champions run drills, lead huddles, and take mastery checks. Handing rituals to Champions is not delegation for convenience — it's how culture becomes self-sustaining and how the Champion earns their level. The rules:

- Assign one ritual at a time, permanently. "You own Tuesday's Take-Five from now on" beats "help me with drills."
- Coach the Champion, not the room. When a Champion runs the drill, your job is to coach the Champion's coaching — praise in public, correct in private, SBI format.
- Shout out Champion moments publicly. Which Champion moment deserved a public shout-out this week? If you can't answer, you're under-watching your best people.

Psychological Safety — The Coaching Substrate

Advisors will not surface mistakes, ask for help, or try new behaviors if they fear being shamed. Your most invisible job is maintaining the conditions under which people are willing to be imperfect.

BUILDS SAFETY	DESTROYS SAFETY
Coach admits their own past mistakes openly.	Coach talks about other advisors' mistakes by name.
Correction always in private, paired with belief.	Correction in the bullpen for the team to overhear.
"What were you trying to do?" before "here's what I saw."	"Why did you..." — puts the advisor on defense.
Praise the experiment, even when it failed.	Punish every miss equally regardless of intent.
One coachable thing per 1:1. Compounding.	Dump every backlog item into one conversation.

Calibration — Making "Mastery" Mean the Same Thing Across Coaches

Two coaches grading the same call 4/5 vs. 2/5 means there is no shared standard — which means promotions feel arbitrary, which means trust in the system erodes. Run calibration monthly.

DRILL · THE MONTHLY CALIBRATION SESSION

Setup: pick three recorded calls representing a range — one great, one middle, one weak. All coaches score independently using the Ride-Along Scorecard.

Reveal: scores read aloud. Where the spread is more than 1 point, discuss the specific moment that drove the variance. Agree on a shared rubric.

Goal: within three months, inter-coach variance below 0.5 points. That's when promotions become trustworthy.

Train-the-Trainer — The Backup-Coach Ladder

The single biggest risk to the system at any shop is losing the coach — promotion, operations, departure. Begin developing a second coach inside rollout Phase 3. Inside the first year, every shop should have a backup coach who can run the full cadence solo for two weeks.

STAGE	BACKUP COACH DOES	LEAD COACH DOES
Month 1	Shadows every drill, ride-along, and 1:1.	Runs everything. Explains the "why" after each session.
Month 2	Co-runs the daily drill. Co-scores ride-alongs. Weekly calibration.	Hands off drill leadership. Audits the scoring.
Month 3	Owens 50% of 1:1s. Owens the daily drill solo.	Owens the other 50%. Reviews the backup's coaching notes.
Month 4+	Runs solo for one full week (lead is "away").	Reviews KPIs at week's end. Course-corrects if needed.

The formal version of this ladder — for turning a shop's best person into its certified coach — is the 13-Week Coach Certification Cycle in Chapter 15.

The Coach's Own KPIs

Avg Advisor Level Change / Quarter

≥ 0.5

Across the whole team, average mastery level rises at least half a level per quarter.

Coaching Notes Delivered / Week

5 × advisors

One SBI note per advisor per workday. If this drops, everything downstream drops.

Calibration Variance

< 0.5 pts

If multi-coach: agreement on scored calls within half a point on the scale.

The 90-Day Advisor Rollout

Mission: Turn a shop with no system into a shop running the full HAB Sales OS in 90 days — measurably, repeatably, without burning the team out.

DURATION 90 DAYS	PHASES 3 × 30 DAYS	EXIT GATE EVERY ADVISOR L4+ TRACK	FAILURE MODE SKIPPING WEEK 1
---------------------	-----------------------	---	---------------------------------

The Three Phases — Why This Order Wins

Most shops that try to install a sales system fail at the same place: everything at once, the team overwhelmed inside two weeks, the binder in a drawer. This plan is sequenced to avoid that — each phase has a single dominant goal, and the next phase doesn't begin until the current one is measurably won.

PHASE 1 · DAYS 1–30 · STABILIZE	PHASE 2 · DAYS 31–60 · MASTER	PHASE 3 · DAYS 61–90 · CEMENT
Foundation + M1 + M2. Stop the bleeding. Rapport & Credibility live.	M3–M8. Run every base. DVI, PRS, Bosses, Close.	M9 + culture + compounding. Recovery, certifications, scoreboard, first Champion.

Roles — Who Owns What

If everyone owns the rollout, no one owns the rollout. Assign these three roles by name on Day 1 and post them on the wall. The Owner can wear two hats if necessary, but the Coach role cannot be skipped — this is where most installs die.

ROLE	OWNS	DAILY TIME	SINGLE MOST IMPORTANT BEHAVIOR
Owner / GM	The scoreboard. Removes blockers. Defends the cadence from operational chaos.	15–30 min	Show up to the Monday standup every week. Period.
Coach / SM	The drills. The ride-alongs. The 1:1s. Calibration of mastery checks.	1–2 hours	Audit at least one call per advisor per day. No skips.
Advisor	The reps. The self-audit worksheet. The mastery gate behaviors.	20 min + reps in calls	Fill out the self-audit worksheet every shift. Every shift.

Phase 1 · Days 1–30 — STABILIZE

Dominant goal: stop the most expensive leaks before installing anything else. In 95% of shops the two biggest leaks are Rapport (poorly answered phones, weak greetings) and Credibility (no shop tour, no warranty discipline). Fix these two and revenue moves before you've taught a single PRS.

WEEK	CURRICULUM FOCUS	THIS WEEK'S DRILLS	KPI GATE TO ADVANCE
1	Foundation chapter, read aloud as a team. Sign the HAB Oath.	Module Key walkthrough. Trust Triangle whiteboard exercise. Greet-to-tour baseline measurement.	Baseline KPIs documented. All advisors signed the Oath. Roles posted on the wall.
2	Module 1 (Rapport) — deep.	Smile-Through-Voice (1.A), The Pause (1.B), Name x3 (1.C). Daily.	2-Ring Compliance $\geq 95\%$. Greet-to-Tour % improving.
3	Module 2 (Credibility) — deep.	The 90-Second Tour drill. Coach walks the tour with every advisor at least once.	Tour Delivery = 100%. Tour $\rightarrow$ DVI Consent $\geq 90\%$.
4	Mastery certification for M1 + M2.	Boss Battle preview (Bosses 1 & 2 only). Mastery scorecard signed by Coach.	All advisors certified Level 2. Phase-1 KPIs all Green.

STOP · DO NOT ADVANCE TO PHASE 2 UNTIL EVERY PHASE-1 KPI IS GREEN FOR TWO CONSECUTIVE WEEKS

The single most common failure of this rollout is sprinting through Phase 1 to "get to the good stuff." There is no good stuff if Rapport and Credibility aren't locked. They are the gate. If a gate fails, the answer is always "go back and master the earlier step." Never advance on hope.

Phase 2 · Days 31–60 — MASTER

Dominant goal: install the technical sales mechanics — custody, inspection, strategy, presentation, objections, close. By the end of Phase 2, every advisor can run a full workflow unsupervised and hit the structural mastery checks.

WEEK	CURRICULUM FOCUS	THIS WEEK'S DRILLS	KPI GATE TO ADVANCE
5	Module 3 (Custody) + Module 4 (Inspect & Analyze).	Concern vs. Symptom translation drills. DVI media audit (coach reviews 2/advisor/day).	Inquiry-to-RO $\geq 70\%$. DVI Completion = 100%. DVI w/ Media $\geq 95\%$.
6	Module 5 (Build & Strategize) — the Diamond.	Base-order drill on every call. Anti-kitchen-sink intervention.	Base-Order Compliance $\geq 90\%$. Same-Call Mixing $\leq 5\%$.
7	Module 6 (Present) + the water-pump worked example.	PRS-on-every-finding drill. Investment-then-Coverage no-pause drill.	Present $\rightarrow$ Auth $\geq 65\%$. PRS Completeness = 100%.
8	Module 7 (Objections) + Module 8 (Close).	Daily Boss Rush. Direction-Facing close drilled into muscle memory.	1st-Objection Close $\geq 55\%$. Authorization Rate $\geq 70\%$. All 9 Bosses defeated in live calls.

PRO TIP · RUN THE BOSS RUSH EVERY SINGLE MORNING OF PHASE 2

15 minutes, all hands, standing. Coach throws random Boss lines, advisors counter in order, scored 1–3, leaderboard tracked. By Week 8 the team will have heard every Boss 40+ times in drill and will counter in their sleep. The single highest-leverage Phase-2 ritual.

Phase 3 · Days 61–90 — CEMENT

Dominant goal: turn the new behaviors into culture. Install L.A.S.T. recovery. Promote your first Champion. Make the system self-sustaining so it survives a coach being out for a week or an owner pulled into operations.

WEEK	CURRICULUM FOCUS	THIS WEEK'S DRILLS	KPI GATE TO ADVANCE
9	Module 9 (L.A.S.T. Recovery) — deep.	Silence Tolerance (9.A), BUT Buster (9.B). Coach pulls every recent complaint and runs it through the Mastery Check together.	Time-to-Acknowledge ≤ 1 hr on the next 5 complaints. No use of the word "policy."
10	Full-workflow integration. Live ride-alongs against the complete 8-step scorecard.	Each advisor gets one full ride-along. Coaching note delivered same day.	Every advisor scoring 2+/3 on all 8 steps. Authorization Rate ≥ 75%.
11	Mastery certification — Level 4 (Pro) for everyone who's ready.	Boss Rush final exam. Recovery scenario final exam. Owner signs Level-4 certificates.	≥ 50% of advisors at Level 4. Top advisor a Level-5 candidate.
12–13	Culture cementing. Promote the first Champion. All-team retrospective.	Champion gets visible recognition (lapel pin, name on the wall). Retrospective: what to keep, what to change.	Day-90 KPI snapshot beats the Day-1 baseline on every metric. The rhythm has run unbroken for 12 weeks.

Phase-Specific Failure Modes & Course-Corrections

PHASE	WHAT GOES WRONG	EARLY SIGNAL	COURSE-CORRECTION
1	"We're too busy for drills."	Drills skipped 2+ days in week 2.	Owner attends the drill in person. Public expectation reset. Drill becomes non-negotiable.
1	Advisors quoting prices on the phone again.	Inquiry-to-Appointment dropping.	Pull recordings. Replay together. Re-run Drill 1.D.
2	DVIs missing media.	DVI w/ Media below 90%.	Coach blocks the call until media is added. One week of friction = behavior change.
2	Kitchen-sinking on calls.	Same-call mixing > 10%.	Anti-kitchen-sink intervention. Recorded call replayed with the team.
2	Arguing with objections.	1st-Objection Close stalled below 40%.	Daily Boss Rush. Acknowledgment drill. Listen for "but."
3	Defending instead of Listening on recoveries.	Time-to-Acknowledge slipping past 2 hours.	Drill 9.A. Coach personally takes the next complaint as a live demo.
All	Coach pulled into operations, skips audits.	Coaching notes below 1/ advisor/day.	Owner blocks the coach's morning calendar. Non-negotiable. Operational fires covered by SAs.

Day-90 Graduation Criteria

MASTERY CHECK · DAY-90 GRADUATION CHECKLIST

- ☐ Every advisor at Level 2 minimum; at least half at Level 4 (Pro).
- ☐ At least one advisor on track for Level 5 (Champion) within 30 days.
- ☐ All 9 KPIs beat their Day-1 baseline; at least 6 of 9 are Green.
- ☐ Daily drill, weekly standup, weekly 1:1s, and weekly ride-alongs have run unbroken for 12 weeks.
- ☐ Every advisor can deliver the shop tour, the PRS framework, and the L.A.S.T. recovery from memory.
- ☐ The Coach can name, for each advisor, exactly which step (1–8) is their next growth area.
- ☐ The HAB Oath is recited weekly, posted visibly, signed by every advisor.
- ☐ One complaint has been recovered well enough to produce a 5-star review.

All 8 true → the shop is operating on the HAB Sales OS. If any are not true, add one more 30-day cycle on the specific gap and re-check on Day 120.

COACH'S CORNER · AFTER DAY 90 — THE COMPOUNDING CYCLE

Day 90 is not the finish line; it's the moment the system becomes self-sustaining. Shift from rollout-mode to compounding-mode: every new hire runs a 30-day compressed version of this same curriculum (Foundation + M1–M2 in week 1, M3–M8 in week 2, mastery checks in week 3, full live workflows in week 4). Every existing advisor re-certifies one full module per quarter to prevent drift. And the shop's best person enters the Coach Certification cycle — Chapter 15.

The 13-Week Coach Certification Cycle

After a shop completes the 13-week Advisor cycle (Modules 1–9), this cycle turns their best person — owner or Champion — into the shop's own coach, so HAB can step back.

DURATION 13 WEEKS	GATES WK 5 · WK 9 · WK 13	TRAINEE OWNER OR CHAMPION	EXIT CERTIFIED COACH
----------------------	------------------------------	---------------------------------	-------------------------

Calendar Mechanics (mirrors the Advisor cycle)

- Take-Five (Coach's Edition): Mon–Fri, 8:00–8:15 AM shop-local time. Set up as a recurring calendar event titled [SHOP NAME] Take-Five (Coach) — <week theme>, with the shop team invited. Weekly rhythm: Mon = Scoreboard · Tue = Listen · Wed = Drill · Thu = Bring · Fri = Win & Miss.
- Weekly 1:1 Session: the shop's booked Tue or Thu one-hour slot. Titled [SHOP NAME] Session <1/2> — Coach Week <n>: <theme>, with a video-call link attached and the shop team invited. Footer line: Curriculum: Coach's Book - <section>.
- The coach-in-training progressively takes over the shop's own Take-Five huddles; your HAB coach's sessions shift from teaching advisors to teaching the coach.
- Gates: Phase 1 gate (Week 5), Phase 2 gate (Week 9), Certification (Week 13). Promotion is evidence-based, never tenure-based. The cycle instantiates per shop from the Monday after Advisor Week 13.

WEEK 1

The Coach's Role: coach the process, score the outcome

Session: Re-anchor: sales is the systematic reduction of uncertainty, and coaching is the systematic reduction of the advisor's uncertainty. Walk the six coaching principles. Read the Coach's Oath together. The trainee's job from today: observe every step through a coach's eyes.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — THE SIX COACHING PRINCIPLES (CH 1)

- (Mon) Scoreboard: baseline the 9 KPIs — these are now YOUR numbers. Focus = coach the process, score the outcome.
- (Tue) Listen to one advisor call purely as an observer. No correcting, just noting.
- (Wed) Drill: recite the six coaching principles from memory.
- (Thu) Bring one moment you wanted to correct an advisor mid-call, and why you didn't.
- (Fri) Observer win and miss. Read the Coach's Oath.

WEEK 2

SBI Feedback: the only format we use

Session: The SBI sentence: "On [Situation], you [Behavior], which [Impact]." Three slots, in order — skip one and the feedback collapses. Behavior, not identity. Works for praise and correction. Write five SBI sentences from this week's real calls.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — SBI FEEDBACK (CH 3)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = one written SBI note per advisor per day.
- (Tue) Listen for identity-level feedback in the shop ("you're not a closer") — rewrite it as behavior.
- (Wed) Drill: turn yesterday's observation into a full three-slot SBI sentence out loud.
- (Thu) Bring your best SBI sentence of the week — one praise, one correction.
- (Fri) SBI win and miss. Did every advisor get at least one written note?

WEEK 3

The Five-Beat Coaching Conversation

Session: The 1:1 structure: open with the win, name the gap (one SBI), ask don't tell, co-design the practice, confirm the commitment. One ask per session — three is zero. Roleplay a full Five-Beat 1:1 with your HAB coach playing a defensive advisor.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — FIVE-BEAT COACHING CONVERSATION (CH 4)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = one ask per conversation, not three.
- (Tue) Listen for "ask, don't tell" moments — is the advisor's answer a knowledge, courage, or system gap?
- (Wed) Drill: run beats 1 and 2 (win + gap) on a teammate in two minutes.
- (Thu) Bring one commitment sentence an advisor wrote down after your conversation.
- (Fri) Five-Beat win and miss.

WEEK 4

The Rhythm: defend it like payroll

Session: The daily/weekly coaching rhythm: Monday standup, daily Take-Five, daily call audits with written SBI, Wednesday ride-along, Friday 1:1s, Friday scoreboard update. Miss it one week and install slows; miss two and it dies. Starting Monday, the trainee runs the shop's Take-Five with the HAB coach observing.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — THE DAILY/WEEKLY RHYTHM (CH 5)

- (Mon) Scoreboard: trainee leads today's huddle. Focus = own the rhythm.
- (Tue) Trainee leads. Listen for energy — a flat huddle teaches nothing.
- (Wed) Trainee leads the drill and audits one call with a written SBI note.
- (Thu) Trainee leads. Bring the week's audit notes.
- (Fri) Rhythm win and miss. Did the huddle happen all five days?

WEEK 5

Reading the Scoreboard + PHASE 1 GATE

Session: KPI red-flag diagnosis: when a number goes red two weeks running, coach the upstream step, never the symptom. Walk the red-flag map (low authorization is almost never a closing problem). GATE

CHECK: trainee has run a full week of huddles and one Five-Beat 1:1.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — KPI RED-FLAG DIAGNOSIS (CH 6)

- (Mon) Scoreboard: trainee picks this week's focus from the lowest number. Focus = upstream, not symptom.
- (Tue) Listen: which red number traces to which upstream module?
- (Wed) Drill: given any red KPI, name the module and the drill in ten seconds.
- (Thu) Bring one diagnosis: red number → upstream cause → prescribed drill.
- (Fri) Phase 1 review — did we pass the gate?

WEEK 6

Ride-Alongs and the Scorecard

Session: The ride-along: sit through a full customer interaction, score all 8 steps 0–3, note one win, one gap, which Boss Battle appeared, whether media was used, and whether the Investment–Coverage pause happened. The scorecard feeds Friday's 1:1. Trainee shadows the HAB coach on one, then runs one.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — RIDE-ALONG SCORECARD (CH 7)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = score behavior, not vibes.
- (Tue) Listen during one full call and mentally score steps 1–4.
- (Wed) Drill: full ride-along, scorecard in hand.
- (Thu) Bring a completed scorecard with a win and a gap identified.
- (Fri) Ride-along win and miss.

WEEK 7

Call Audits and Drill Design

Session: Daily audits: one call per advisor per day with a written SBI note. Then drill design — a good drill isolates ONE behavior, takes five minutes, and repeats daily until reflexive. Trainee designs next week's five Take-Five drills from this week's audit notes.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — CALL AUDITS & DRILL DESIGN (CH 8)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = an audit that doesn't produce an SBI note didn't happen.
- (Tue) Listen for the one behavior that keeps repeating across advisors.
- (Wed) Drill: design a five-minute drill for that behavior.
- (Thu) Bring your drill — the team runs it live.
- (Fri) Audit win and miss. Next week runs on the trainee's drills.

WEEK 8

Roleplay Mastery: playing the customer

Session: The coach must be the shop's toughest customer. Learn to run the 9 Boss Battles from the customer side: pick a persona, hold the objection realistically, escalate if the advisor argues, and score the response against the script. Trainee runs a Boss Rush as the customer.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — ROLEPLAY / BOSS RUSH (CH 9)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = the drill is only as good as the customer you play.
- (Tue) Listen for the objection your advisors handle worst — that's tomorrow's boss.
- (Wed) Drill: trainee plays the customer on that boss, twice per advisor.
- (Thu) Bring the hardest persona you can build — vehicle, concern, worry, budget.
- (Fri) Roleplay win and miss.

WEEK 9

Mastery Checks + PHASE 2 GATE

Session: Evidence-based promotion: Rookie → Advisor → Closer → Pro → Champion, each earned in live calls, never by tenure. Walk every promotion bar. Don't promote on a feeling, and don't sit on evidence.

GATE CHECK: trainee has run a solo ride-along and a solo Friday 1:1.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — MASTERY LEVELS & PROMOTION CHECKS (CH 10)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = show it, don't claim it.
- (Tue) Listen: which advisor is closest to their next level, and what's the one blocker?
- (Wed) Drill: run a live mastery check on one advisor.
- (Thu) Bring the evidence file — calls, numbers, scorecards — for one proposed promotion.
- (Fri) Phase 2 review — did we pass the gate?

WEEK 10

The Hard Talk: stalled advisors

Session: When an advisor is stuck 3+ weeks, diagnose before prescribing: knowledge gap (re-teach + drill), courage gap (coach demonstrates — courage is borrowed before it's earned), or system gap (fix the shop, not the advisor). Roleplay a hard Five-Beat with a stalled advisor.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — STALLED ADVISOR RECOVERY (CH 11)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = diagnose the gap before prescribing the drill.
- (Tue) Listen: is that repeated miss knowledge, courage, or system?
- (Wed) Drill: coach demonstrates the feared move live (borrowed courage).
- (Thu) Bring one stalled-skill diagnosis with your prescription.
- (Fri) Hard-talk win and miss.

WEEK 11

Coaching Recovery + knowing when to escalate

Session: Coaching M9: audit L.A.S.T. recoveries — specific, time-bound solves, banned word "policy," update within 24 hours. Then the escalation list: attendance, refusal, knowingly breaking the Oath, culture friction — those go to the owner with SBI documentation, not into more coaching.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — RECOVERY COACHING & ESCALATION (CH 12 + CH 11)

- (Mon) Scoreboard: recovered-sale and 5-star rates. Focus = a complaint is a coaching rep.
- (Tue) Listen for the word "policy" anywhere in the shop.
- (Wed) Drill: score one real recovery against all four L.A.S.T. steps.
- (Thu) Bring one situation that should be escalated, not coached — and why.
- (Fri) Recovery-coaching win and miss.

WEEK 12

Champion Development: build your successors

Session: A coach who does everything forever is a bottleneck. Champions run drills, lead huddles, and take mastery checks — praise in public, correct in private. Trainee assigns one ritual to a Champion and coaches them through it.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK — CHAMPION DEVELOPMENT (CH 13)

- (Mon) Scoreboard. Focus = teach it to own it.
- (Tue) Listen: which Champion moment deserves a public shout-out?
- (Wed) Drill: a Champion runs the drill, trainee coaches the Champion.
- (Thu) Bring one ritual you've permanently handed off.
- (Fri) Development win and miss.

WEEK 13

COACH CERTIFICATION + handoff

Session: Certification: the trainee runs the whole week solo — huddles, audits, a ride-along, Friday 1:1s, scoreboard. The HAB coach scores the trainee against the Coach's Oath, reviews the full KPI arc versus day one, and sets next-cycle goals. From here, HAB moves to monthly check-ins. Read both Oaths together.

CURRICULUM: COACH'S BOOK (FULL) + THE POCKET SUMMARY

- (Mon) Scoreboard: the full board versus Coach Week 1. Focus = finish strong.
- (Tue) Solo day — the HAB coach observes only.
- (Wed) Solo day — trainee runs a full ride-along and drill.
- (Thu) Bring the certification evidence file: scorecards, SBI notes, one promotion made.
- (Fri) Certification review. Recommit: do what's right, do what's fair, do your best.

MASTERY CHECK · COACH CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS (WEEK 13)

- ☐ Ran the full weekly rhythm solo — five huddles, daily audits with written SBI, one ride-along, Friday 1:1s, scoreboard update.
- ☐ Can recite the six coaching principles and the red-flag map (red KPI → upstream module → drill, in ten seconds).
- ☐ Has run at least one live mastery check and assembled one promotion evidence file.
- ☐ Has diagnosed one stalled-skill case as knowledge / courage / system, with prescription.
- ☐ Has permanently handed off at least one ritual to a Champion.
- ☐ KPI arc reviewed vs. day one; next-cycle goals set. Both Oaths signed.

All true → shop's coach is certified. HAB moves to monthly check-ins.

The 26-Week Two-Cycle Overview

Six months, one shop: 13 weeks to install the Advisor system, 13 weeks to install its coach. Then HAB steps back to monthly check-ins.

Cycle 1 · Weeks 1–13 — The Advisor Cycle (Modules 1–9)

The Advisor cycle delivers the 90-day rollout of Chapter 14 on a weekly session calendar: daily Take-Five huddles (Mon–Fri, 8:00–8:15 AM shop-local) plus the weekly one-hour session with your HAB coach. Sessions carry the footer Curriculum: Advisor Book - <module>.

WEEKS	PHASE	FOCUS	GATE
1	STABILIZE	Foundation — core principle, six objectives, 8-step map. Sign the HAB Oath. Baseline the 9 KPIs.	Week-4/5 gate: Tour Delivery = 100%, Tour → DVI ≥ 90%, 2-Ring ≥ 95%. Do not advance until Green two straight weeks.
2–4		M1 Rapport (deep) · M2 Credibility (deep) · M1/ M2 mastery certification.
5–9	MASTER	M3 Custody · M4 Inspect · M5 Strategize (Diamond) · M6 Present (10-step ISO) · M7 Objections + M8 Close. Daily Boss Rush throughout.	Week-9 gate: Authorization ≥ 70%, all 9 Bosses defeated in live calls, PRS = 100%.
10–13	CEMENT	M9 L.A.S.T. (deep) · full-workflow ride-alongs · Level-4 certifications · first Champion promotion · retrospective.	Week-13 gate: Day-90 KPIs all beat the Day-1 baseline; rhythm unbroken for 12 weeks.

Cycle 2 · Weeks 14–26 — The Coach Cycle (Chapter 15)

Starts the Monday after Advisor Week 13. The HAB coach's sessions shift from teaching advisors to teaching the coach; the trainee progressively takes over the shop's own huddles.

WEEKS	COACH WEEKS	FOCUS	GATE
14–18	1–5	The coach's role & six principles · SBI · Five-Beat conversation · owning the rhythm · reading the scoreboard.	Phase 1 gate (Coach Wk 5): trainee has run a full week of huddles and one Five-Beat 1:1.
19–22	6–9	Ride-alongs & scorecard · call audits & drill design · roleplay mastery / Boss Rush as the customer · mastery promotion checks.	Phase 2 gate (Coach Wk 9): trainee has run a solo ride-along and a solo Friday 1:1.
23–26	10–13	Stalled advisors & the hard talk · recovery coaching & escalation · Champion development · solo certification week.	Certification (Coach Wk 13): full solo week, evidence file, both Oaths. HAB → monthly check-ins.

The Six-Month Arc in One Line

Weeks 1–13: install the system in the advisors. Weeks 14–26: install the system's guardian. After Week 26 the shop runs itself — HAB checks in monthly, and the scoreboard tells the truth.

PRO TIP · WHAT "HAB STEPS BACK" ACTUALLY MEANS

Monthly check-ins review three things: the 9-KPI arc, the promotion evidence files created since last visit, and whether the rhythm ran unbroken. If two of the three slipped, schedule a two-week booster on the specific gap — don't restart the cycle.

The Coach's Worksheets

Print, fill, file. These four sheets are the paper trail of a working install.

1 · Ride-Along Scorecard (weekly, per advisor)

RIDE-ALONG SCORECARD

- ☐ Advisor: _____ · Date / shift: _____ · RO #: _____
- ☐ Step 1 Rapport: ____ /3 · Step 2 Credibility/tour: ____ /3 · Step 3 Custody/concern: ____ /3 · Step 4 DVI quality: ____ /3
- ☐ Step 5 Base order: ____ /3 · Step 6 PRS + investment/coverage: ____ /3 · Step 7 Objections: ____ /3 · Step 8 Close: ____ /3 · TOTAL: ____ /24
- ☐ Boss Battle observed / handling: _____
- ☐ DVI media used (Y/N): ____ · Investment-Coverage pause (Y/N): ____
- ☐ Specific win: _____ · Specific gap (SBI): _____
- ☐ Re-audit date: _____

2 · Coach Self-Review (every Friday)

COACH SELF-REVIEW

- ☐ Coach: _____ · Week ending: _____
- ☐ Drills run (count): ____ · Ride-alongs completed: ____ · 1:1s completed: ____ · Coaching notes delivered: ____
- ☐ Advisor I most helped this week (name + behavior): _____
- ☐ Advisor I under-served this week (name + why): _____
- ☐ One coaching mistake I made this week: _____
- ☐ One coaching skill I'll work on next week: _____
- ☐ Cadence broken? (Y/N, which ritual): _____
- ☐ One thing the Owner needs to know: _____

3 · The Escalation List (post inside the office, not the bullpen)

STOP · THESE GO TO THE OWNER WITH SBI DOCUMENTATION — NOT INTO MORE COACHING

- ☐ Consistently late or absent — attendance is not a coaching problem.
- ☐ Refuses to use the script in roleplay — a willingness gap.
- ☐ Knowingly acting against the HAB Oath (e.g., quoting on the phone after three corrections).
- ☐ Creating friction in the shop culture.
- ☐ Three full 90-day cycles without progression past Rookie.

4 · The Coach's Wall (what hangs next to the shop dashboard)

- The 9-KPI scoreboard, color-coded, updated every Friday.
- The coach's own three KPIs: Advisor Δ /quarter ≥ 0.5 · SBI notes 5×advisors/week · calibration variance < 0.5 .
- The Boss Rush leaderboard.
- Both Oaths, signed.

I will measure my success not by what I do — but by what they become.

RECOMMIT

I will hold the cadence even when the shop is on fire.

DO WHAT'S RIGHT · DO WHAT'S FAIR · DO YOUR BEST

HAB COACH'S BOOK · VERSION 2.2 · CONFIDENTIAL & PROPRIETARY · HEALTHY AUTO BUSINESS